
The 400 times stiffness gap between 316L stainless steel and flexible polymers decides healing.

Physics always wins the wrestling match