
Red tattoo ink carries an elevated risk of triggering an allergic immune response compared to other colors.

Extreme swelling provided excellent alternative transportation.