

Even tattoo machines haven't changed much since they were first patented in 1891.
An eternal vibrating relic receives its due reverence.