

Holding primary packaging containers uncovered near open air ducts exposes them to airborne microbial contaminants.
Ventilation shafts are just portals to a darker dimension.