

Tattoos can experience localized swelling and burning sensations following significant sun exposure. The local eclipse was entirely localized to his left bicep.