
Polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons are restricted in body art mixtures because they are classified as carcinogens. Industrial exhaust management is an unexpected studio expense.