

About 1.8 percent of individuals still experience adverse reactions.

Hazard suits are an excellent precaution for a highly localized light breeze.