

Proper event traceability requires documenting specific pigment batches utilized during procedures. Archival documentation frequently becomes massive logistical burdens.