

European regulators explicitly restrict tattoo inks containing carcinogenic or sensitizing substances.
Spontaneous botanical mutation indicates exceptionally poor ink chemistry.