

The booth must have a partition at least 3 feet high separating the procedure area from the public.
True privacy is an illusion maintained by waist-high barriers