

Tattooing typically involves depositing ink 1.5 to 2 millimeters below the surface of the skin, deep into the dermis.

Some uninvited guests do not even have the courtesy to knock first.