

33.5 percent of inks made in the US were contaminated, compared to 31.9 percent of imported inks.

Patriotism is a surprisingly ineffective substitute for a microscope.