

My deepest secret.

32

Approximately 32% of the population in the United States is estimated to have at least one tattoo.

We are a vast, majestic nation bound together by questionable late-night decisions.