
Surface piercings require adequate tissue depth to anchor the jewelry and prevent the body from expelling it.

Deep roots require more than optimism