

Permanent makeup fades over time because large inorganic pigment particles are actively removed by the immune system.

Eternity is much shorter than advertised.