

Using a piercing needle that is narrower than the jewelry creates a collapsed channel that increases rejection risk.
Forcing a boulder through a straw defies physics.