Permanent makeup fades quickly because its larger inorganic pigment particles are actively removed by the immune system.

The cellular garbage collectors prefer the heavy lifting.