

Adjusting voltage buttons with gloved hands during a session requires the entire wireless machine to be wrapped in barrier film.

The mummification of the studio was complete and total.