

This requires the artist to hold the ink bottle at least 5cm above the cap while pouring.
Divine precision engineering demands steady hands and angelic supervision.