

Rotating the jewellery during the healing phase tears the fragile forming tissue and delays recovery.
You are healing a delicate puncture wound, not tuning a radio.