Mixing homemade salt solutions creates an excessively salty mixture that over-dries the piercing and disrupts healing.

You are caring for delicate skin, not curing a ham.