

Visitors must arrive calmly to avoid turning sacred places into transit terminals.

Spilled groceries violently interrupt spiritual tranquility.