

The master possesses the authority to choose or adapt the design according to the recipient intention and lineage rules.

Demanding a highly specific tribal dolphin tramp stamp entirely misses the point of surrendering to ancient wisdom.